Dear Saint Seton's Orphaned Animals:

Congratulations, this year Saint Seton's Orphaned Animals was nominated for the Live United Awards, a commendation that honors the exceptional commitment of organizations and individuals

Rappahannock United Way had a very successful year in 2010. Thousands of community members volunteered their time, giving back over $10 million in volunteer hours to the Greater Fredericksburg area. This would not have been possible without the selflessness of individuals like those in your organization.

Your group's dedication to the community has been recognized by many people. The Live United Awards committee received many nominations and had an extremely difficult time selecting the best. While your nomination was one of the most outstanding, unfortunately, it was not chosen as the winner. Your nomination packet recognized your impressive achievements in the community and is truly something of which to be proud.

We appreciate everything that your group does to help Rappahannock United Way lead the community to give, advocate, and volunteer to impact the needs of the Greater Fredericksburg community. We look forward to volunteering with you in the future!

Sincerely,
